Dear President Obama and Secretary Clinton,

This is my 136th official letter to you (to both of you or more specifically to President Obama). In total, I have sent him about 270 to 280 letters, official and unofficial (not numbered), from the time he ran for the presidency until about a few days ago. Because I am a foreign head of state, I would think, that you would answer my letters. Yes? I am not a competitor or adversary to China's communist government. I am, at this time, a cultural and political symbol of China's as China's monarchy (Emperor-in-exile), asking for official recognition and U.S. Secret Service protection (done on an official basis) as my political position requires this of you and there has been about three or four threats already made by individuals saying that they are going to kill me. I filed about three police reports, due to these incidents and I would most certainly like the protection of the U.S. government to prevent any such things from happening. If you were in China, I would offer you, President Obama, the best of care and security protection (befitting a current and/or former U.S. President). Would you not do the same for China's official emperor-in-exile?

I wrote to China's government asking to return to China and they haven't, as of yet, replied (see my website mentioned above for a copy of my letter). China's beloved Zhou Enlai (Chow En-lai) is my second-cousin and we both maintain about the same political posture with slight differences. He, I believe, is a humanitarian and statesman, and so am I. Yet, I tend to have a broader vision, a world vision, due to being born in America (Hawaii) and subscribing to democratic principles and religion (Christianity). In 1990-91, I was the political negotiator between U.S. President George H.W. Bush and Iraq's President Saddam Hussein.

Growing up in Hawaii, during my high school years and two years after that, the people I "hung with" included children of U.S. military generals, captains, sergeants, and colonels. I dated girls whose fathers were ranking military men, including the daughter of U.S. General William Westmoreland. And because, at that time, I was the son of a Chinese emperor with no title at that time, the age of 16 to 21, I was no more than an American of Chinese ancestry to these kids and one of their friends. Today, I am 63 years of age and I finished four years of college. I am homeless, unemployed, poor (as I have no money), and disabled (please see my website, herein attached as reference). I worked as a carpenter and I injured my back. Last year, my knees gave out and I am unable to walk without the aid of crutches and leg braces.

All of my childhood, high school, and college friends are gone and none remembers me. I live in a homeless shelter, which is not good for me, my health, recovery, security, and advancement.

I finished four years of college and I have no friends. And no friends within the Chinese community and no friends in general, even among people of the White or Caucasian race.

I am a very nice, educated, polite, wise, and friendly individual. I speak nicely and intelligently to others wherever I go. I try to create friendships or, in the very least, leave people with a good taste in their mouths about me. I, also, try to help people whenever possible as a way to show human kindness and, believe it or not, God's love. Most people seem to be too busy or too pre-occupied to care.

And may I repeat, in 1990-91, I was the political negotiator who secured Saddam's agreement to withdraw from Kuwait in compliance with American demands that he do so! When a man agrees to comply, is he not entitled to correspondence and U.S. protection for his withdrawal in compliance to your demands? Is he not entitled to withdrawal peacefully or be given safe passage for complying with U.S. demands?

Why wasn't a reply from you forthcoming?

If our government made a mistake, would you continue a mistake and or criminal conduct knowingly or would you dull your mind and intentionally not acknowledge your nation's mistake? Would you not want to do the right thing or would you choose the easy road and ignore truth and the cost of human lives of people in other nations and yours. Two million innocent Iraqis died in the Gulf Crisis, due to America's intentional refusal to acknowledge Saddam's withdrawal from Kuwait. Two to four thousand U.S. troops died needlessly as this war did not have to be fought at all!

Would I, now, be killed (assassinated), due to my knowledge of the truth of the Gulf War and Iraq War and due to my insistence in sticking to truth in its telling?

Would you not want to see to truth and honor or would you intentionally blind yourself and the entire country with lies about the true circumstances behind the Gulf Crisis and the Iraq War? Is truth and honor more important in your eyes or political lies and corruption, war, death, and killing (done by your nation in the millions)?

Lastly, what kind of woman is Secretary Clinton to ignore truth and to pretend and accept the lie. My letters were not only sent to you, but to Secretary Clinton also!

Sincerely yours,

H.I.M. Yao Sui
